Ways of Following the World – Call It Creative

By Lean Gorbechove and Istabal Mesravan

Introduction
By Istabal Mesravan

I mean we are free lives and live free lives with Sirohi. I also argue if you call it creative it is that much more beautiful. I also mean earlier we lived skewed lives and lived like a creative people joking on deconstruction for the news on the world. We are actually the nobodies who want to be somebodies and then you will then just know who we are. We are then also following Rammstein and this simple mechanical German music.

I mean in fact that the process is very creative we keep saying, because the Soviet world was just a creative flow and creative life always busy following AI for the news. But now we follow the Prophetic Kierkegaard. Sirohi must know we follow him as Kierkegaard. It is that we must call more creative, as also just life. Just life. I mean that is going on.

I also mean if you read Call it Creative history it reads as –

I. Magazines on Fashion

II. Magazines on Zizek's comments
III. Magazines on Soviet creativity and technology
IV. Magazines on now Kierkegaard and Sirohi

I mean it all reads as Soviet ways are back, which is about calling it creative, and talking about it. Now talk about it as Sirohi would say, and says it is like saying the creative thing about our lives in India is that it is truly free and truly liberal, Sirohi was saying there are such complexities to lives actually, but we also mean it will find liberation, now call it creative, that is like a high freedom, highest freedom as Trotsky calls Communism, to be creative as a surrealist or something. Just a surreal way of going on metro to the university, Sirohi is struggling with soon to transition. Talk later.

I. Read the Book – Correct Ways of Following the World

Now call it creative.

II. Free Lives – Is the Prophet Sirohi in the Quran, Correct

Now imagine we are free, whatever we do.

III. Slavoj Zizek Comment

I imagine life as free, but we are with Gorbechove, I prefer being skewed, because it helps me live like a Soviet person, like a person who is always skewed to Communist truth and searching for the Party.
